GAVE RECITAL AT HIGH FOR SENIORS

Miss Bean and Other Prominent Musi-cians Delighted Audience at High School Auditorium.

For the benefit of the historical pageant for the senior class of the High school's commencement exercises Miss Virginia L. Bean gave a most successful recital at the High school auditorium Saturday might, with other prominent musicians assiting her. Miss Edna E. Scotten, of the senior class, was manager of the affair and the moving spirit in arranging for the program.

Mrs. J. M. Frank, of the High school. Mrs. J. M. Frank, of the High school faculty and room teacher of the seniors, briefly explained the purpose of the concert before commencing the program. "To produce this historical pageant of our southwest when history was in the making will need a geat deal of cooperation and financial help. We realize that we have undertaken a stupendous task in such a pageant, that it be appropriately costumed and that the stage settings be correct, but we have made it the spirit of our class slogan. Better things for a better El Paso." she said.

The stage was artistically arranged with draperies and furnished an attractive background for the performers.

Miss Bean's opening number was the Mazurka by Mylnarski. Then she played
'Meditations from Thais." by Massenet,
Mrs. V. L. Bean was her piano accompanist throughout the evening.
Parvin Witte sang "The Heart's Spring Time" by Von Wickede, A. F.
Sievers being his accompanist.
Kreisler's "Caprice Vienois" was the next violin number of Miss Bean's.
"Because I Love You Dear" by Hawley, and "An Open Secret" by Woodmen were very acceptably sung by Miss Laura Maud Pink, A. F. Sievers accompanying her on the plano.

Miss Walker McClellan sang "Yester-ay and Today," by Spreas and "A Rose and a Dream." Miss Hazel Anderson was her accompanist.

Lemen Sang Irish Songs.

M. H. Lemen sang an Irish felk song.

"The Snow Breasted Pearl" from the cycle of Irish folk songs. "Pearls on Bhrollaigh Bhain," by Arthur Whiting. His second number was a lullaby by Sidney Homer. Edwin C. Kolckmeyer was his accompanist. The songs were particularly suited to Mr. Lemen's rich baritone voice and were very well rendered. Mr. Lemen spoke about the composers before singing.

Miss Bean's closing numbers were both violin soles—Brahms "Hungarian Dance," and Nelson's "Norwegian Eullaby."

Principal Hughey Thanks Musicians,

At the close of the program A. H. Hughey, principal of the High school, expressed the thanks and appreciation of the school and the senior class to the musicians for the entertainment. At the close of his speech he read the telegram from coach Bell of the High school team announcing them the winners of the football game at Roswell which brought forth hearty applause.

Assisting as ushers and at the doors of both the school building and auditorium were Chris Jungioham. Kath-
